At the same time I can say that we shall make a fight to have the whole that we shall make a fight to have the whole matter referred back to the synod of the state of New York, where it should have gone any way before it came up to the assembly. We may not be successful in our efforts, but we shall do the best we can. There are some strong and able speakers on our side, and they will insist on being heard, though, of course, there will be no need for any insistance, as the assembly has shown a willingness to hear the

They believed the great problem connected with the colored people in the south was to be wrought out by industrial education and Christian education. They did not purpose to make industrial education the main feature of the university, but to make it a feature, so that every young man who went out from there would have a trade. He asserted that Biddle

University and Lincoln University had sent out more thoroughly educated colored men than all other institutions in the country put together. Biddle University had sent out sixty mained Presbyterian ministers, besides many to other denominations. This work was being pushed forward by the Presbyterian Church in these institutions as it was not being done in any other institutions.

THEIR VIEW OF WORK.

The young colored men, he said, were much like young white men. They thought there was some incompatibility in a man of trained intellect having to work with his hands, so they waited for something to turn up where they would not have much to do. But at Biddle they trained the band as well as the heart and mind. Some of these young men had gone out and built churches and houses with their own said that in all the work of the board it had never been better organized or better equipped for work than at the present time. They were, he said, hopeful of doing much greater work in the future. He spoke of the valuable services to the board of Mr. S. P. Harbison of Pitasthe work than they had ever known. Presby-

All day long today the commissioners to the general assembly had all they cared for to talk about, and before the morning session and during the recess at noon there was plenty of matter for the discussion went on in the lecture room of the New York Avenue Church, that takes the place of a sort of lobby for the representatives. To begin with, the little breeze that was started in Dr. Sunderland's church yesterday morning came in for its full share of discussion, and sentiment in the matter was divided along strict party lines. As a result of the fact that the present assembly is admitted to be an anti-Briggs body in a proportion varying from three to one up to as high as five to one the majority of men took the position that while Dr. Sunderland may have been rather injudicious in what he said, yet they were all of the opinion that his position in the matter was FEELING OF THE BRIGGS MEN.

With the Briggs men the feeling was a de-Baltimore Markets.

The members of the jud ial committee were excused from attendance at the sessions of the assembly this morning and spent several hours at an important meeting at their rooms in the Hotel Fredonia. While they were gone there was a good deal of comment and discussion on the probable results of their deliberations. Nothing was known definitely committee the opinion was general that the reporting the appeal. It was report and that the two would be considered by the assembly. It was also thought that the reength and give the reasons for its position.

If it be entertained the following order shall be observed:

Elders: John F. Henderson, Wm. S. this morning at the Arlington with Col. Mc-Cook and Dr. Lampe, two of his associates Dr. Young, chairman of the committee on on the prosecuting committee. While Dr. bills and overtures, then coming forward, re-Birch is the chairman of the committee, yet Col. McCook has taken a very action and will remain with it until the end. This is the prose-main with it until the end. This is the prosecuting committee that was appointed by the New York presbytery and by the rules in the premises the original committee must see the matter through. The appointment of a committee of this character is precisely analogous to the appointment by the President of a judge to the bench. After the appointment is made the appointee has the power to go ahead irrespective of the party that beneath it into found that if ever any overtures presented to an assembly should be referred to the committee on church polity these should be. They re simply to changes in the standards. On the ground of principle, therefore, the committee now again recommended that they be referred The members of the prosecuting committee feel confident that the case will come up this year for a trial on its merits and that there is the overture from the Chicago pres book of government respe ting judicial pro-

Just what the vote will be when the case comes to a conclusion is quite another matter. It is admitted to be rather a conservative estimate to place the proportion of Briggs men to his opponents at about one to four in this assembly. That the vote against him will be as four to one is hardly thought possible. There are a considerab more or less, by the arguments that are preof Dr. Briggs and his teaching, will yet object to being too severe with him. These and other

VIA THE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE. Rev. Dr. Thos. C. Hall of Chicago said that there was no objection to the matter's going to the committee on polity, but should it not go via the judicial committeee. If the polity committee was to report first there would be no objection to its going to that committee, but as it was the judicial committee that was to report first he thought it should go to that committee so that both committees could get the benefit of the light that the overture might yield as to the sentiments of the presbyteries.

Dr. Harsha remarked that there were nin other overtures on this same matter.

Dr. Warfield urged that this overture had nothing to do with the judicial committee, and he thought it unwise to congest the work of that committee by requiring it to go through papers with which it had nothing to do.

NOT MIND READERS. Dr. Pugh of Philo, Ill., said that the commit tee on bills and overtures had no zeal in this matter. The overtures went to that committee for distribution and it had done its duty. The paper belonged to the committee on church polity. They could not, he said, take into consideration the intention of the Chicago students. In two rooms at least they had had as many as eight students each, too many presbytery. They were not mind readers.

"The briefest way with Dr. Booth," said the noderator, "is to let him speak."
So Dr. Booth spoke and spoke briefly agains Dr. Hollifield's proposition on the general ground that it was introducing the element of popular clamor into their proceedings. PROF. BROWN OF UNION.

Prof. Francis Brown said that, as he under stood it, the committee proposed now not to do what it had expressed its willingness to do this morning—that was, to refer these overtures to the judicial committee. Dr. Young said that it was stated this morning that these overtures had reference to a pending case, and on that he had said he would, on his own responsibility, change the direction of their reference. On examination of the papers he found they did not refer to any case before the assembly, but proposed changes in the standards. They had not therefore been correctly described this morning.

Prof. Brown spoke of overtures which were in two parts, one referring to pending cases and another of a general nature, and he asked what had become of such overtures.

Dr. Young said that in all such cases they had been referred to the judicial committee for ML CUTCHEON OF DETROIT.

Mr. Cutcheon then addressed the chair and the moderator asked his name. "Mr. Cutcheon of Detroit," answered the York, Raymond of Albany, Stevenson of California and Reid of Montans.

The Rev. Dr. Worden and the Rev. Dr. Dickey, both of Philadelphia, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist Church yesterday. Dr. Worden preached at 11 o'clock an eloquent sermon on the state of the soul between death and the judgment, using for a text the words, "Absent from the body, present with the Lord." In the evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Dickey discoursed on the elevation of humanity in Jesus Christ.
